NHL Journal of Medical Sciences

General Information

The Journal
NHL journal of Medical Sciences is the institutional journal of Smt. NHL Municipal Medical College, AMC Medical Education Trust, Ahmedabad, India. The journal is published biannually after review by esteemed members of the medical faculty as well as basic medical sciences. The manuscripts include review articles, original research articles, case reports, short communications as well as book reviews from various fields of Medicine and basic sciences.

For Authors
Communications of manuscripts pertaining to editorial matters, original research articles, review articles, case reports, items of current interest and articles of general interest and views, articles on new methods/procedures on drug evaluation, testing and analysis, book reviews etc. should be sent to the Chief Editor in English language, in soft as well as hard copies.

Manuscripts shall be accepted for publication on the condition that their substance/matter has not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. Author(s) are required to sign the statement for transfer of copyright and should subscribe to the annual subscription of this journal.

Original research articles shall be accepted for publication on the condition that the authors have not violated any ethical practice, appropriate procedure including the obtaining of informed consent from the participants has been followed during the research study and approval by the Institutional/Independent Ethics Committee before starting the study has been obtained.

The manuscripts submitted should be in the appropriate format as required by the editors and are subject to copy editing as well as formal changes and language corrections where necessary. Editorial changes required for conformity with journal style are possible.

Manuscripts
Two high quality copies and a soft copy of the manuscript should be submitted. Articles must be typed on one side of the paper and must be numbered sequentially, including the title page. It should not exceed 10 typed pages including figures, tables and references, and should be in 10 size Times New Roman fonts.

The title should be brief and to the point. The names of the authors should appear on the title page with their affiliations and full address. A summary should be given at the beginning of the article which should be brief, factual and not exceed more than 100 words.

The articles should include the following headings: Introduction, Keywords, Materials & Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion and References. (IMRAD structure)

The Vancouver style of referencing is predominantly used in the medical field. All references shall be mentioned in the text giving the name of the author and year in this style. The list of references should be numbered. No part of references should be underlined.

For the original papers, the name(s) should be followed by the title of the paper, the full name of the journal, year of publication, the volume/issue number and the numbers of the first and last pages of the paper e.g.:

For the textbooks & monographs, the name of the author should be followed by the title of the book, editor and the publisher.

While any reference carrying the names of more than two authors may be condensed in the text using ‘et al’, this is not permissible in the bibliography where names of all authors must be mentioned.

Each table should be on a separate sheet, with adequate heading. Table & heading together should be self-explanatory.
All the comments on the tables apply equally to figures. Figures should be on glossy photographs, not photocopies. Photographs for reproduction should also be glossy prints.

Review Articles
Review articles are written by researchers of considerable experience in the field concerned. The author/s should review the recent trends or advances in that field with the up-to-date developments at least in the last 3-5 years.

Research Papers
Original research work shall be considered for publication under this section depending on the volume and quality of work.

Case Reports
The journal welcomes interesting case reports as well as adverse drug reaction reporting.

Correspondence
Comment(s) on previously published articles, items of current interest and articles of general interest and views can be submitted for this section.

Letter to the editor
It should not exceed two typed pages. Letters can be regarding articles published in this journal or any other significant matter. There should be not more than five references and tables and figures cannot be used.

For Circulation/Distribution
NHL journal of Medical Sciences shall be provided free of cost to the faculty members of the institution. The journal shall also be circulated to various academic as well as research institutions in India of the medical and scientific fraternity.

Advertising Policy
The journal accepts advertisements but reserves rights to reject any advertisement which is considered unsuitable according to the editorial team. All articles that do not meet the above specifications will be returned to the author for revision before being considered for review by the editorial board.

Disclaimer
The information published in this journal is the work and views of the author/s and not of the Editors or the publishers. Editors neither endorse the matter given by the authors nor assume any responsibility for the accuracy of the data/matter given for publication. Readers may confirm the information given herein for their satisfaction.

Editor in Chief
Dr. Pratik R. Patel
Professor & Head
Dept. of Forensic Medicine
Smt. NHL Municipal Medical College
Ahmedabad-380006
E mail: yatna@rediffmail.com